SEROT. BROOKS left on Friday's train for Regina where he has gone to take part in the annual shoot of the N. W. M. P.

THE monthly special children's service was held at the Methodist church yesterday morning. The Rev. J. Dyke preached an interesting sermon.

THE Supreme court sitting will commence here on October 13th. Judge Rouleau will probably preside. There are several interesting cases on the criminal docket.

THE first regular monthly meeting of the Liberal association will be held to-morrow evening in the old Methodist church at 8.30 sharp. All liberals cordially invited.

AN Ottawa dispatch to the Tribune says: Mr. Fitzpatrick in the house to-day introduced a bill to permit of an election in the Northwest Territories within one year without revision. This is to permit of the election being held in Saskatchewan.

MR. OLIVER is strongly urging that no close season for fishing be enforced in Lac la Biche and other lakes of the Territories as the non-treaty Indians and half-breeds are in serious straits, and must depend upon fishing for their winter supplies of food.

G. E. GOGGON returned last Thursday from Judge Rouleau's gold mine. He has been superintending operations in drifting. The machine has been worked, and with the exception of one or two accidents, seems to run well. The dirt has not proved so rich in gold as was anticipated.

A. MACDONALD, ex-mayor of Winnipeg, and head of the firm of A. Macdonald & Co., of Winnipeg and Edmonton, came up on Thursday's train and returned south Friday morning. He has just been through the Kootenay country, where he has two or three large businesses. He believes thoroughly in the future of B. C.'s great mining region.

Calgary Herald: "Mr. Percy F. W. Godenrath, late of Messrs. McCarthy & Bangs' office has gone into partnership with Mr. P. Heimick, of Edmonton, who has lately started business as a stock broker and real estate agent at Kaslo. The firm name is P. Heimick & Co." Mr. Heimick claims that this statement is not correct. He says he wrote P. F. Godenrath from Calgary to stop operations.

WHAT might have been a serious accident happened last Friday when C. Gallagher's horse backed the delivery wagon with a load of ice over the river bank at the back of the store. The intention was to throw the ice over the hill, but the horse took matters his own way and went over himself with the wagon. Some slight breakages to the wagon fellows was the only damage done.

E. E. HUTCHINGS, of Winnipeg, proprietor of the local saddlery store, came up on Monday's train. He has just returned from where Kootenay where he gained considerable information about the trade done there. He finds that Manitoba and Spokane are the chief sources from whence butter, bacon, oats, eggs and such produce is obtained. Alberta supplies the beef. Mutton, pork and veal apparently came from Spokane. The butter for the miners is put up in tins weighing from 3 to 10 pounds. The men are mostly Americans and prefer to have their butter in these packages because it keeps better and is more easily transported up the mountains. He heard complaints that bacon which had come from this side of the mountains was not properly cured and often went bad before the miners reached their claims in the mountains. Mr. Hutchings thinks that most of the reports circulated about the Kootenay are correct though in some cases they may be exaggerated.

W. W. DAVIDSON will leave for Calgary to-morrow's train.

J. KELLY and Moosewa returned from the Kootenay on Thursday's train.

BISHOP GRANDIN and Father Leduc returned from Winnipeg on last Thursday's train.

THE Presbyterian choir will give a glee concert in the church on Friday evening the 16th inst.

C. W. GAIRDNER returned from Lac la Biche this morning where he had gone on a business trip.

THE mania for stunts amongst school children has spread to Qu'Appelle and other places in the Territories.

THE cold wind to-day seems to presage a snowstorm. Our country friends came in to-day with their winter furs on.

TAB C. P. R. telegraph lines are down between here and Calgary and the government line is not working satisfactorily. If the elements had not interfered with the service we would have been able to furnish any telegraphic news, as the operators strike is not ended. The engineers are not yet out, but may join the operators at midnight to-night.

THE prairie fires which were raging fiercely all round us last week, are still burning. The Poplar lake fire is in such condition as to cause alarm to the farmers. It may break out in force again at any moment. The fire to the west is still smouldering and last night the atmosphere in the west end was laden with smoke. On the south side of the river between here and Victoria a settler reports the whole country to have suffered severely from fire, several farmer have lost their hay, and in one or two instances an animal. Over the Sturgeon river and on this side of it serious fires have been running for a considerable time, and in the neighborhood of Fort Saskatchewan the police have had a hard time. At Riviere Qui Barre one settler has lost all his hay and the land is burnt out over a large area. The fire across the race track in town here is also still smouldering.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MORALITY.

The editorial on the above subject which appeared in Saturday's issue of the Herald has caused considerable consternation in the minds of a number of the parents in town, as no suspicion had arisen that anything approaching vice or immorality was in existence among the pupils of our schools here.

In conversation with K. W. Mackenzie this morning the fact was elicited that he was unaware of the existence of any of the implied vicious tendencies amongst the children. He considers that if Edmonton public school is not to be considered in the general classification of the Herald, that paper should at once state that such is the case, and if on school is included, particulars should be given instead of vague generalizations. Mr. Mackenzie consulted with his staff to-day at a special conference and each of them deny the existence of the conditions indicated. While the children are in the play ground at recess they are continually under the eyes of the teachers, and a careful supervision of the pupils is also maintained at all times during school hours as provided for by the school act of the Northwest Territories. Mr. Mackenzie considers the Herald's general condemnation of the Territorial public school system as including Edmonton schools, and urges the Herald, if his interpretation of their article is correct, to state on what authority its condemnation is founded as regards the school here.

Other parents say they remember some scandal here a few years ago, but they cannot believe our school is a "hotbed," such as the Herald assumes it must be under the existing system.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN FALL FAIR.

The annual fall fair of the Fort Saskatchewan agricultural society was held on Friday and Saturday last, and was favored with fine weather, although a little raw for standing round. There was a good attendance from the surrounding settlements also from South Edmonton and Edmonton. Everything passed off without a hitch; the best of order prevailing throughout. There was a good show of horses in nearly all classes. In the cattle class there were not many entries, and the stock fair, Phillip Mohr, of Beaver Hills, showed a fine yoke of oxen. In the sheep and pig classes the stock was of first quality. I. S. Doze showed some fine pure bred Poland China pigs for which he received first prize in all sections. The poultry exhibit was rather small. The exhibit of grain, roots, etc., was good.

For best drawing team there were four entries: Wm. Fluker, Chas. Bremner, E. Simmons and Joseph Toane. The teams were hitched to a stone boat loaded with about 4,000 pounds of stone. E. Simmons 1st; Chas. Bremner, 2nd.

THE NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

The second session of the third legislative assembly of the Northwest Territories opened at Regina last Tuesday. The speech from the throne is a very lengthy document. It gives a complete statement of the reports concerning crops and cattle received from the various agricultural centres of the Territories, and states that the general consensus of western opinion is, that the imperial government should be urged to establish a re-mount or military horse depot at Calgary. Altogether the agricultural and stock raising interests throughout the Northwest are eminently satisfactory.

It states that the one thing necessary to ensure continuous progress will doubtless soon be supplied,—namely, the creation and maintenance of a home or local market, as well as connection with foreign business centres.

Satisfaction is expressed at the establishment of thirty dairy and cheese associations, and at the announcement of the minister of agriculture re cold storage.

Referring to creameries the speech says: "The several visits made to the Northwest by Professor Robertson, Dominion agriculturist and dairy commissioner, have given an impetus to the more complicated branches of scientific farming. As a result of his efforts, a large number of creameries have been established in Manitoba, and more recently in the Territories, noticeably at Moose Jaw, Indian Head, Prince Albert and Regina. That at Moose Jaw, has afforded an opportunity of thoroughly testing and ascertaining results, having been in operation from the middle of May until the latter part of November, 1895, and since then. The total quantity of butter made between the months specified from milk and cream supplied by sixty customers, was in the vicinity of 70,000 lbs., and the value at Moose Jaw railway station was $19.31 per 100 lbs.—most of it being shipped to Manchester, England. The rate of transport from Moose Jaw to Montreal is $1.28 per 200 lbs., with a rebate of 12½¢ per 100 lb. and when the butter is shipped from Montreal. It must be remembered, however, that a creamery can only be managed successfully by men who have had a technical training, sufficient for the requirements of the business."

On educational matter His Honor remarks as follows: "The progress of educational institutions in the Territories must be considered very satisfactory. On the 25th August, 1895, there had been proclaimed 384 public schools, 36 Roman Catholic public schools, 10 Roman Catholic separate schools, and 2 Protestant separate schools, in all 432 school districts. During the 13 months that have since elapsed, 50 public schools, two Roman Catholic public schools and 1 Protestant separate school have been erected, making a total of 485 schools, and the estimated number of pupils in attendance was 10,710.

"As the school debenture debt represents taxes voluntarily incurred, the following statement may be of interest. Since August, 1895, debentures have been issued and registered to the amount of $40,225. In addition, sanction has been given to 12 school districts to issue debentures amounting to $4,150. The total amount of school debentures issued since 3rd June, 1886 is $233,500. The maturity of these debentures has practically very recently begun. Up to August 31st, 1896, $9,245 have been written off, $3,250 falling due this month, and in each succeeding month will see a larger number of school debentures arriving at maturity. The amount absorbed by the payment of annual coupons, represents about 7½ per cent. of the indebtedness, maturing during various periods up to A. D. 1916."

Several other matters are dealt with in the speech. The public works paragraph says: "On former occasions, the attention of this assembly was called to the existing system of expenditure of funds for roads and bridges in each electoral district, and suggestions made as to the necessity for reforms in this particular. Grave irregularities have since arisen in various cases, and it is no doubt time for action to be taken in the premises."

Reference is made to the probability of the Crow's Nest Pass railway soon becoming an active factor in Northwest progress. The coal oil tests at Athabasca Landing have not been as satisfactory as was anticipated. Mr.

Fraser has expressed a desire to still further prosecute the work when there is less shale to be encountered and doubtless other borings will be authorized.

The justices of the supreme court will be invited to offer suggestions upon the personality of the new magisterial commission. A carefully prepared magisterial handbook has been prepared. The consolidation of the ordinances will be considered. Statute labor and fire districts now number 54.

The following documents were submitted.

Copy of correspondence in connection with reservation of the school ordinance.

Copy of returns from Commissioner Herchmer as to prairie fires.

Copy of magistrates' manual proposed for use of new commission.

Cheese and dairy associations of the Northwest Territories.

Copy of lunatic returns for the years 1894, 1895 and 1896.

Copy of last census re population of the Northwest Territories.

THE KOOTENAY AND EDMONTON DISTRICT.

In writing the following article I want to present as near as possible the true character of the now famous Kootenay district and by my extended trip through the region, I am inclined to think that I am enabled to give a fair opinion on this particular country of our great Dominion.

It may be now called a comparatively easy task to reach those thriving mining centres, since natural facilities, combined with the energetic spirit of far-seeing men, have opened the region for development.

I think it not out of the way to give a short account of the route. After the traveller leaves Revelstoke on the main line of the C. P. R., a branch line takes us to Arrowhead, the most northern point on the Arrow lakes, from where, in order to reach the Trout lake country a boat service to Thompson's landing is kept, and from this point by stage on a good road, we are brought to Trout lake city, a thriving place most picturesquely situated on the charming lake of the same name, imbedded amidst the grand mountain scenery which British Columbia alone can afford. The Trout lake country is looked upon favorably by the investing public on account of its rich prospect in silver ore, and a movement is on foot to replace the wagon road by a railroad at an early date.

It was here I met with G. Bourke, a gentleman, who is well known to the people of Edmonton and commanded considerable respect among the prospectors of past days by his extended experience, and travel, which qualifies he still retains at his new place of operation.

After being convinced of the promising future of this deserving place, I took up the journey. It was necessary to go back to Arrowhead to catch the boat that plys between there and Trail. It may be acknowledged to the credit of the boat owners that the equipment of this boat left nothing to be desired in regard to comfort.

Between the ever varying aspect of the mountain region, we glide down the lake. High bluffs seem to advance on the waters and leave little or no room for the establishment of even a small farm until we reach a point on the east side of the lower Arrowhead, called Deer Park; which is the pearl of the whole region. A flat in places slightly timbered for about 2,000 or 3,000 acres, with its charming position on the lake, its natural roadway, with mineral prospects and mines of acknowledged wealth in the immediate vicinity could not, but become the object of attention of any visitor and already the importance of the place has been recognized and a market in real property has been established, to bring the most home-like spot of the whole Kootenay before the public with success.

But let us get to the end of the boat ride and land in Trail, the distributing center for West Kootenay. Here we find a busy and enterprising place. A visitor need not fear disappointment in regard to comfort or even luxury and order and cleanliness. The best of hotels the whole country possesses are centred in trail and the names of their proprietors are security enough to pacify and satisfy even the most scrupulous gourmand.

The people of trail are lucky in having a gentleman filling the position of chief magistrate of a most energetic and enterprising nature. Mr. Topping, more familiarly called the father of Trail, is justifying the title in every respect. It must be understood that all the city improvements have private concerns to thank for their existence, and it must be remembered that a good deal of the people there are of American origin. Trail has besides the ordinary improvements of a town such as sidewalks and graded streets, water works and electric light. Two boats, one from the north and one from the south form a daily intercourse with the centre world. Trail is the starting point of the narrow gauge railroad to Rossland. It has a smelter and other industries making it a real business centre for this particular region.

Rossland the booming young giant in the mining record of British Columbia is reached at present by the narrow gauge railroad from Trail, but in the near future it also will be connected by a railroad from Northport on the Columbia River to the south.

It is almost useless for me to attempt a description of this point since so many reports have already almost exhausted the subject, but it may still be asserted that Rossland and its surrounding wealth of mineral will warrant the excitement and justify its rapid progress.

Since time is money I will lead the reader quickly back to Trail, and hurry him on board the boat with Nelson as our destination. At Robson again we change the way of conveyance and make ourselves comfortable on the railroad cars. On arriving at Nelson we are immediately impressed with the fact that we have reached the substantial business centre of the district. But it has not only the importance of a commercial centre. The perhaps more important fact of being the prospective terminus of the long desired Crow's Nest Pass railroad as well as being the established political point with its courts, government offices, chartered banks, will at once distinguish this place, and inspire faith in the solidity of the city. Nelson combines the advantages of being a busy mining town with the dignity of the political center. Two boat lines connect her with the Kootenay lake while railroads are at present terminating within her boundaries.

A further advantage for Nelson is the lack of incorporation. There is no doubt of the importance of the place and less of its progressing in future. In addition to these advantages, Nelson owns one of the fairest situation in our Rocky Mountains and the pure air insures health. Indeed I left with some regret, but as to see more was the object of my trip, Kaslo the once famous boom town at the north end of the Kootenay lake was my next aim. Though having learnt of the revival of the town from its late crisis I was astonished at the amount of business transacted. Building operations are going on briskly and everything points to a solid and lasting progress which is in no small way due to the actual richness in mineral of the adjoining country. Kaslo again is connected by rail with Nakusp on Arrow lake. This railroad crosses over perhaps the richest silver country in the world and all places along its track give testimony to the fact, especially Sandon which at present holds the record for rapidity of development and its future is assured, backed by the wealth of its silver ore.

With the impression of having achieved the object of my journey I set out for the plains again and after a regretful farewell look at the grand mountains, I hurried back to Revelstoke and had the C. P. R. do the rest in bringing me home. The very rattling of the cars assisted the theories that began to form themselves and I would like to submit some of my reflections, the product of my leisure on the cars. The combined population of about 35,000 of the Kootenay, want to be supplied with produce and the competition question has been enough ventilated so far, but has hardly received the practical test of the inhabitants of our fair Edmonton district. According to the prices of farm produce which I had an opportunity of comparing with ours, an idea of an easy exchange of our produce has come to me.

I could not see so much of the great hindrance, Edmonton freight rates, that prevent our farmers from becoming suppliers for the Kootenay, but I found that the present way of exchanging the products is the real cause of our being left in the background. The farmers of this country should not look for the assistance of high toned corporation or the doubtful support of private individuals, but should inaugurate a direct business connection between themselves and the consumers of the Kootenay. I venture to say that all the first class farm produce of our farms will hardly suffice to keep the Kootenians, who are, by the way, used to good food at three meals a day. Thus there could not be the slightest doubt entertained as to placement of the produce, but it must always be borne in mind that only prime quality is wanted and therefore it depends entirely on the farmers to open and hold their market in the Kootenay by sticking to honest principles. If properly organized and economically as well as intelligently conducted it becomes a simple and lucrative cash business transaction for

SUPREME COURT JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were received from Mr. Justice Scott by last mail.

Peter Pruden vs. J. C. Squarbriggs, Margaret I. Squarbriggs, and Emmeline Dietz. This was an application by the defendant Dietz, who had conduct of the sale of Sturgeon mill property, for the distribution of the proceeds of the sale in payment of various sums viz. $851.93 and interest to the Rev. Pere Oblates Marie Immaculate; Costs of sale and confirmation of the same; $870.40 plaintiffs taxed costs of $756.25 in full of plaintiff's 1/3 the interest in the property; $1207.57 and interest to the plaintiff; and remainder of proceeds to defendant James C. Squarbriggs or his execution creditor or assigns.

The property in question was sold on the 2nd, May 1896 to one Percy B. Canfield, and an order was made by consent that the purchase money be paid into court to the credit of this action. The case was argued on 8th, July 1896. It was agreed by all the parties that the amounts due the Rev. Oblates and Emmeline Dietz should be paid. There was considerable evidence produced as to the claims of the other parties. The judge holds that the lands in question were intended to form and did form part of the partnership estate. Judgment was made as follows:

(1) For payment to the Oblate Fathers the amount which may be found by the Deputy Clerk to be due to them in respect of their mortgage.

(2) To Emmeline Dietz the costs of her advocate, less the sum of $25 retained by said advocate.

(3) The payment of plaintiffs costs on taxation.

(4) To the plaintiff the sum of $756.25 for his one-fourth interest in the property sold.

(5) Balance to go to plaintiff towards the $1200 due from defendant. J. S. Squarbriggs. C. M. Woodworth for Emmeline Dietz; S. S. Taylor Q. C. for plaintiff; N. D. Reek Q. C. for Moore & Macdonald; J. C. F. Bowdler Q. C. for Taylor & J. B. Hewitt execution creditor of J. C. Squarbriggs.

James A. Stewart vs. W. S. Robertson. Claim was for $57 as custodian of goods seized, $8.16 for feeding mares, and $7.50 for feeding stallion. Judgment for defendant with costs, and for the plaintiff on counterclaim without costs.

N. W. Live Stock Insurance Co. vs. J. C. Morrison. This was an action on two promissory notes to cover premiums upon certain insurances on defendant's live stock which were then at Bathgate, N. D. Defendant claimed that the company agreed to insure the stock and have the policies drawn up so that they would hold good in Canada, and that the stock would be carried during transportation. The company's agent denied this and said that defendant asked for permission to remove the stock to Canada, and was told such permission could be got. The applications for insurance were then drawn up, signed, and delivered. The original policies were not produced or their absence accounted for, but in cross examination of defendant a blank form of policy was shown him which he stated was similar to the policies he had received. That form contained a number of stipulations and conditions which were not contained or referred to in the application. Each application was for an insurance against loss by death, disease, or accident for the term of one year, no matter where they might be removed during that time, and also during their removal. There was nothing in the application to show that the insurance contract was to be subject to a condition that the policy was to be void, if the stock were removed. Where then was the authority of the company to insert such a condition in its policy? From the evidence it appeared that the parties were never of one mind as to the contract. Defendant applied for an insurance. Plaintiff company did not unconditionally accept his application. The application was subject to certain conditions which plaintiff refused to accede to. Hence there was no contract between them and therefore no consideration for the making of the notes sued upon. Judgment for defendant.

Wood vs. Hare, Whitson, and McLellan. Actions on notes by an American firm against defendants who came from the U. S. to Canada. Judgment for plaintiff against Hare for $170.60; against Whitson for $383.09; against McLellan for $779.63; S. S. Taylor Q. C. for plaintiff; P. F. McNamara for Hare; Beck & Emery for Whitson & McLellan.

Steado vs. Batho, McLellan et al., McLellan, Hare & Whitson. Similar cases to above. Judgments for plaintiff against Whitson for $184.12; against Hare for $197.55; against McLellan for $153.17; against McLellan et al. for $31.35; against Batho for $210.32. S. S. Taylor Q. C. for plaintiff; Beck & McNamara for Whitson & Hare; Beck & Emery for McLellan & McLellan et al.; Cosigan & Bangs for Batho.

September 29th, 1896.

At a "Mahatma" performance in Ottawa opera house Saturday night, Hon. Hugh John Macdonald went on to the platform to assist the performer. In one trick he had his eyes bandaged, a pail turned upside down over his head, and in this condition he held Miss Fay's hands in a dark cabinet, and the pail and bandage were taken off his head by unseen hands. In another trick a piece of cloth had to be sewed around Miss Fay's arm, and the member for Winnipeg took a needle and thread and acted as seamstress to the lady, carefully sewing on the wrappings. The audience laughed and giggled a good deal while Hugh John sewed.—Winnipeg Tribune.

GENERAL NEWS.

The pacing record of the world has been lowered by John R. Gentry in Maine. He paced a mile in 2:09.

There is a scandal in Winnipeg professional circles. It is understood that a statement of claim has been filed against two well known city doctors for issuing a false certificate of lunacy. The Free Press says if the case comes before the courts it will be one of the most interesting ever tried here.

The Times' Cairo correspondent believes there is some truth in a native report that the Khedive is now making a tour of Europe incognito and that he has taken with him a scheme for Egyptian independence drafted by prominent native officials. "This anti-British intrigue," the Times correspondent continues, "seems the more likely since the Khedive while professing that the journey is non-political has had an interview with M. Hanotaux, the French minister of foreign affairs."

Surprise has been created in Regina by the arrest by Sergt. Heffernan of Hubert Schmitzer, of Strasburg, a German settler north of Regina. Schmitzer has always been regarded as a respectable man, and was an active politician during the recent election. He is, however, accused of being concerned in wholesale robberies extending over a series of years, and for some time has been watched. Two years ago a wagon was stolen from James Bradner, of Regina; three weeks ago a buckboard was stolen from McCarthy Bros.; then Mrs. Carey had a valuable carriage cushion taken together with an overcoat belonging to her husband. All these things were found in Schmitzer's possession.—Calgary Herald.

A Montreal dispatch of Sept. 28th, says: La Patrie has started a fund for the family of Louis Riel. When the Metis chief was executed in 1885, a committee was formed in this city to raise subscriptions, of which Beaugrand, of Patrie, was president; ex-Mayor Grenier, treasurer, and J. X. Parroissin, secretary. Some $1,300 was subscribed and invested in Banque du Peuple stock, which is now worthless. La Patrie published a letter signed by Julie De La Gironiere Riel, in which Riel makes an appeal for his young son, 14, who was about to enter the Jesuit college when the bank failed. Beaugrand has started the subscription with a donation of $100.

New York, Sept. 28.—Just two years ago Miss Hattie Hanagan, whose decorative paintings have delighted thousands at the art exhibitions, arranged with an Indian named Thunder Cloud to pose as her model for a picture of wild western life. Thunder Cloud, who is a big strapping fellow, straight as an arrow, with piercing black eyes, a brighter face than most Indians, and altogether a noble representative of his race, fell in love with the artist, and now they are married. Thunder Cloud was born in the Coughnawaga country, near Montreal, about forty years ago, and a few years later was carried as a papoose to Northern Minnesota. His mother was a full blood Sioux, and his father a half-breed Chippewa. When twenty years of age he was taken to Europe by Buffalo Bill, and was the most admired of the Redskins who appeared with the Wild West show before the nobility. Since his return to New York he has earned a good living by posing and selling Indian curiosities. In the city directory Thunder Cloud's name appears as Dominick Plante, but to their friends the couple are known as Mr. and Mrs. Thunder Cloud.
